

SOCIETY ANNOUNCEMENTS

Beethoven Club Meeting.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the members of the Beethoven club was held Wednesday morning in the Woman's club, Mrs. J. P. Hill, president, in the chair.

The plans outlined by the chairman of committees give promise of one of the most interesting and instructive years in the history of the club. With Mrs. Hill as leader, the success of the club is assured.

The artistic committee has been especially fortunate in securing for the first concert of the season, to be given at Goodwyn Institute, Tuesday evening, Nov. 19, Miss Rosalie Miller, soprano, and Miss Augusta Cortright, pianist. The artistic committee is composed of Mrs. E. S. Worden, chairman, Mrs. Ben. J. Taylor, J. W. Sherron, A. W. Taylor, J. W. Canada, W. P. Chapman, W. J. Wilkotte.

The monthly membership concert is a source of great pleasure and benefit to the club. The first of these concerts for the season will be given Saturday, Nov. 23, and are in charge of Mrs. David L. Griffith, chairman. Mrs. James L. Melton, vice-chairman, assisted by Mrs. D. H. Mueller, Irwin E. Edwards, W. M. Bush, R. L. Brown, L. Y. Mason, H. H. Fairfax, Ralph Jurden and Miss Irene Martin.

An important committee is the hospitality committee, members of which serve as the official hostesses of the club upon special occasions and several members of which are present to greet the guests at each of the monthly concerts. In the spring, when a number of musicians will be the guests of the club here, these ladies will serve as hostesses. The members appointed by Mrs. Hill to serve on this committee are Mrs. E. B. Douglass, chairman, J. T. Hinton, vice-chairman, Frank Fisher, James M. McCormack, Frank Taylor, R. P. Lake, Milton Anderson, W. E. Murray, Robert Fagin, Ralph May, F. J. Pritchard, Ike Crabtree, James Stark, James Smithwick, N. W. Spers, John Gaston, James C. Hale, Charles W. Floyd, J. R. Faine and R. E. L. Martin.

A new department of work undertaken by the club, which the members may will be of special benefit to the city, is that of extension. The work of the committee in charge of this department will be to provide musicians when called upon by the city or by any of the local institutions. The committee includes Mrs. Ben S. Parker, chairman; Mrs. Edmund Wiley, vice-chairman, and Misses Mark Brown, G. T. Fitzhugh, G. F. Gunther, Claude Tully, Ben Goodman, T. J. Mitchell, Edward, H. D. Over, R. M. Reed, D. W. Fly, D. L. Hooper, of Cordova, M. C. Smith and P. N. Montgomery, of Shazo, Miss, and Miss Jennie De Shazo.

The musical culture class of the club, which proved such a brilliant success the past year, under the direction of Mrs. R. A. Street, will soon announce a most interesting plan of study. Members of this committee this year are Mrs. Louise Trezevant, chairman; Mrs. R. A. Street, vice-chairman; Misses A. B. Williams, W. E. Gerber, P. Fuhrmann, Chester Waters, Misses Frances Cole, Rachel Johnston, Susie De Shazo, Belle Wade and Emma Adams.

A new committee has been created, of which Mrs. John O. Platt is the chairman. The young ladies of the club will take their places as ushers, replacing the young men that have heretofore served in that capacity. Mrs. Platt will have to assist her Misses Margaret Gagne, Minnie Miller, Lucille Dejeure, Lucille Craig, Gladys Cauthen, together with a number of those who have yet to be notified of their appointment.

Another new committee, that of public appropriation, has also been announced. Mrs. Jason Walker is chairman and Mrs. H. G. Lambert vice-chairman.

The committee of public school music has for its chairman Mrs. Jesse Houck, assisted by Misses John Galford, Jacob Bloom, Jesse Cullings, W. G. Reed, Misses Lucille Ham, Alma Hill, Beatrice Garrison.

Press Committee—Misses T. W. Sherron, Louise Trezevant, W. J. Hon, Sig-bund Harpman, Misses Zoo and Margaret Forbes.

Calendar—Misses William Floyd, J. L. Andrews and E. W. Taylor.

The junior branch of the club will hold an election of officers and plan the work for the ensuing year at an early date.

The committee from the senior organization in charge of the work of the junior is composed of Mrs. Rogers McCallum, chairman; Mrs. Stella Gingham, vice-chairman; Misses W. S. Hyatt, J. W. Terry, Fulcher, Alfred Sohn, Misses Margaret Gause, Gladys Cauthen, Susie Booker and Abbie Lou McJeehee.

This unexpected and most unusual opportunity in high-grade millinery is due to several very serious obstacles in the path of industry (unseasonable weather and the ravaging "Spanish flu" epidemic) which have greatly retarded business and naturally created a congestion. The only speedy method of relief was substantial reductions in price.

We were alert to the conditions—a fact which is most emphatically demonstrated by this truly wonderful style gathering from two of America's foremost millinery designers, recognized by fashionable dressers from coast to coast as authentic style creators. The liberal concessions induced us to buy very freely—realizing that the women of Memphis and vicinity would be quick to grasp a like opportunity.

They possess lines of smartness and individuality that emphasize their style importance at first glance.

Tailored Hats that are characterized by a chic simplicity—their trim, plain lines accentuated in distinctive ways for which these makers are so well known.

Trimmed Hats that are created into such artistic gracefulness as only these famous houses can produce—that possess a distinctive individuality in the inimitable "Gage" and "Fisk" way.

In other words, they possess individual charm and cleverness that claim instant recognition by fashionable dressers all over the country.
